About Shoreline Exemptions

In addition to receiving approval from San Juan County before undertaking your proposed use, in most cases you must receive approvals from certain state agencies and also complete a Joint Aquatic Resources Permit Application (JARPA).

General Shoreline Uses

All work that will use, divert, obstruct, or change the natural flow or bed of state waters or that will use any of the salt or fresh waters of the state or materials from the beds, must receive approval from the Washington State Department of Fish and Wildlife before beginning any construction.

Mooring Buoys

In addition to the information required in the exemption form, you must also submit:

- A map of the location of the mooring buoy including the swing line of the chain.
- The location and ownership of mooring buoys and docks within 500 feet.
- Depth of water in the proposed location at 0 tide.
- The location of any other mooring buoys under your ownership.

After Community Development & Planning evaluates your exemption, copies will be sent to the Army Corps of Engineers, the Department of Natural Resources, the Department of Ecology and the Department of Fish and Wildlife.

JARPA & Agency Notifications

The Department of Fish and Wildlife requires a JARPA application, which can be accessed online at www.epermitting.org. The JARPA application is not to be submitted to San Juan County. The JARPA, with plans and photos, should be submitted by the applicant directly to the Washington State DOE headquarters – Federal Permit Unit, the WDFW Habitat Program in Olympia, and the Army Corps of Engineers.
